PRESS RELEASE

The Western North Regional Peace Council (WNRPC) has in the past few months, followed and keenly monitored the public political space in respect of utterances, behaviors, actions and activities in the count-down to the New Patriotic Party's Presidential Primaries slated for Saturday November, 4th 2023 across all the nine (9) constituencies in the region.

The Regional Peace Council commends members and leadership of the Party in the region for conducting and acting to a greater extent with decorum as well as shunning actions that may have tendency of positioning the Region in a bad light.

The Council thus advises delegates and non-delegate, members and leadership of the Party as well as all political actors to ensure that the region remains peaceful before, during and after the elections.

The WNRPC admits that elections are often characterized by acts of insecurity which can trigger differences that could lead to conflicts. Hence, the Council encourages all delegates and political actors to have absolute faith in the laws of the country.

It is the hope and belief of the WNRPC that, the security services would demonstrate the highest professionalism during this electioneering period.

We pray that God grant the NPP in the Western North Region in particular and Ghana as a whole a very successful election.

Long live the Western North Region as a united family!!!!
